Local friends were in Glasgow Thursday afternoon to attend the funeral of Laura B. Lewis, wife of A. Ray Button, held at her home. Rev. John Thompson of the Methodist church officiated and there was a large attendance of relatives and friends. Many came from other towns and cities. There were beautiful tributes. Burial was in Riverview cemetery. Rev. Mr. Thompson conducted the committal service at the grave. Mrs. Button was the daughter of the late Alexander and Miss. Walpole, Lewis and a granddaughter of the late Nathan B. Lewis, for years a prominent business man of Glasgow.

World. Miss Etta Button, a daughter, died last August. Much sympathy is felt for the husband and surviving children in their bereavement.
Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Maine entertained Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Bindoff of Myrtle at their home in the village Sunday.
Mr. B. James and Gilbert Billings are visiting friends in Groton.
Mrs. Minnie Sheffield and daughter, Miss Grace Sheffield, of Waterbury, were visitors in the village Sunday.
Mrs. W. W. Billings and daughter, Berntha are in Springfield, Mass. the guests of relatives.
The farm west of the village, known as the John D. Gallup place, has recently been sold to Brooklyn, N. Y. purchasers. Towns are smiling since the cold wave set in. Prospects for a crop are promising.

Hendon.—The Mt. Carmel firemen evened matters with the Centerville fire company's pinhole outfit Monday evening by defeating the Center team 28 to 15.

DANIELSON AND PUTNAM NEWS

DANIELSON

An alarm was pulled in from Box 14 at 2:40 Thursday afternoon and called the fire department out for a grass fire burning near the railroad tracks south of Franklin street. Fear that the fire would be communicated to nearby buildings was given as the reason for pulling the alarm to which the motor pumper and the hook and ladder company responded.

Killingly High schools basketball players will appear in new uniforms when they face the Worcester Trade school team here this (Friday) evening in what is expected to be one of the fastest games of the season. The Worcester team is represented as being an unusually strong organization of players and they should be capable of extending the Killingly players their limit.

An interested audience heard an interesting speaker at the vestry of the Westfield Congregational church Thursday afternoon when Professor Theodore Collier of Brown university addressed the members of Sarah Williams Danielson chapter, D. A. R. and others on Pilgrim Principles for the Life of Today.

Rev. M. J. Ginet, M. S., remains at St. Joseph's rectory at Killingly, Mass., where he is residing after completing his labors here in St. James' parish, where his good work will be long remembered and of which he will retain pleasing memories.

Members of the board of relief of the town of Killingly have given the usual notice to taxpayers that sessions of the board will begin with the month of February and will continue throughout the month.

A fast game is looked for here tomorrow evening when the New York Naval Reserve team will come here to meet the Connecticut Mills five, rated as one of the fastest basketball organizations in southern New England. The naval team has been making a great record this season and has attained state-wide prestige in Rhode Island.

Inspector John Edgerton, of the state motor vehicle department, is to be here today (Friday) to give examinations for those who wish to qualify as drivers and to attend to other duties pertaining to the department. Hereafter the inspector will be in Danielson on every other Friday until a new inspector is appointed for this territory.

George L. Chase was reported Thursday morning to be seriously ill at his home in East Killingly, where he has been a resident for many years. Mr. Chase suffered a shock on Wednesday. He is well known in Danielson and other parts of the town.

Members of Quinebaug lodge of Odd Fellows were at Willimantic Thursday evening to attend the 21st anniversary of Owhebetuck lodge in that city. The affair brought together Odd Fellows from a number of towns in eastern Connecticut.

A letter received by Captain E. O. Armington of C company, State guard, Thursday morning from Adjutant General George M. Cole makes operative an order received last spring for the formation here of a company of corps artillery.

Captain Armington said Thursday afternoon that he was leaving for Norwich, where he is expected to have a conference with Major M. B. Payne of New London relative to the matter.

Next Tuesday evening Captain Armington will discuss with the members of the state guard company the possibilities of getting as many of them as may be eligible to enlist in the new organization, which would require about 125 men. There are about 50 members of the state guard company here at the present time.

PUTNAM

More than half a hundred members of Israel Putnam lodge of Odd Fellows went to Willimantic Thursday evening to assist at the observance of the 31st anniversary of Owhebetuck lodge of that city. Grand Master Frank W. Whitman and other grand officers were present for the occasion, which attracted Odd Fellows from many sections of eastern Connecticut.

The degree team of Israel Putnam lodge conferred the first degree upon a class of candidates of the Willimantic lodge. The ceremony was held in the hall of the lodge at 8 o'clock.

The local Odd Fellows left here on an early evening train and returned on the State of Maine express.

It was stated Thursday morning that the net profit to the Parent-Teachers' association from the presentation of Katsch-Koe will be about $325, this being one-half the net proceeds, the other half going to the producing company. This satisfactory financial result means that the Parent-Teachers' association will be in an improved financial position and able to do a number of things that it has in mind for the benefit of the public at large.

Many will be interested in the university extension course that it is planned to establish in this state. Attorney Charles L. Torrey of this city, member of the state board of education, outlined on Thursday the plans that are being formulated. The course offered will be made possible through co-operation with Yale university and will be available to the people of Putnam and all other towns of the state.

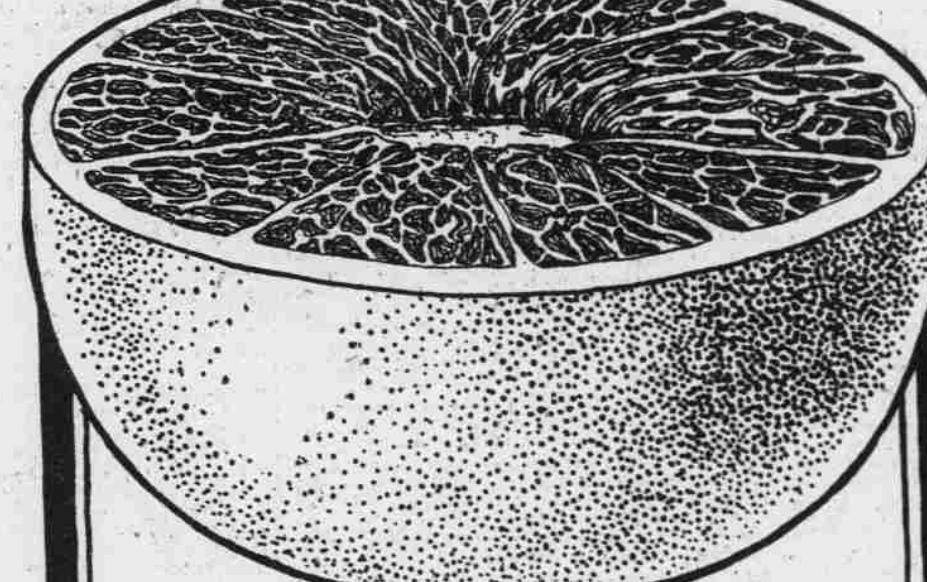

Joseph Plenda, Frederick W. Seward and Frank H. Smith, members of the board of relief for the town of Putnam, have given the usual formal notice that their sittings are to begin with the opening of February.

Ice harvesting was under way in this city Thursday and the manner in which the work was being pushed resulted in hundreds of tons being stored during the day. With only a few days more of continued cold weather this city's worries about having a sufficient ice supply for the coming summer will be over. Plenty of ice is available this winter and the ice men have found conditions in this respect much different from last winter, when about everyone was employed.

The annual charity ball of Putnam lodge of Elks in Union hall Thursday evening attracted members of the organization from all parts of the jurisdiction of the local organization. The hall had been handsomely decorated by a Hartford firm and the music was by Key's orchestra of Whitesville. The affair has a pronounced success and is to be listed with the many splendid affairs given by the Elks of this city.

It was announced by Elizabeth Porter Putnam chapter, D. A. R., under whose auspices the affair is to be given, that the Pilgrim pageant to be staged next Wednesday at Union hall by Putnam High school students is to be open to the public without admission charge. The members of the D. A. R. would like to have the presentation made a community observance of the Landing of the Pilgrims.

A story comes from Eastford relative to a monster still that is said to be operating in that section of the county, where isolation is one of the chief assets of the moonshiner. If the reports relative to this still are to be credited it must be in the Leviathan class.

Sealdsweet Grapefruit

Tree-ripened Sealdsweet grapefruit are now ready. They have great food and health values and add an appetizing zest to every meal. Nature provides them a juice-retaining, germ-repelling coat and seals the whole in a glossy, golden overcoat. You and all your family will be happier and healthier if you eat plenty of Sealdsweet grapefruit.

Sealdsweet Oranges

Sealdsweet oranges are now ripe, sweet and full-flavored. The delightful contents will put the roses of Florida into the cheeks of children. They are filled with concentrated sunshine, and freely enough used will rout the most persistent grouch. Select oranges by weight; the heavier they are the more juice you will get. Sealdsweet oranges are better than ordinary kinds because juicier.
